RE: Mobile Giving for Japan Disaster Relief

Dear Senator Boxer:

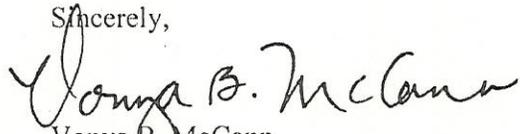

Thank you for your letter to Dan Hesse dated March 18, 2011. Sprint Nextel Corporation ("Sprint") shares your concern for the people of Japan and is pleased to inform you that it is taking the steps necessary to advance the mobile donations that its customers have generously pledged for the relief of Japan.

Sprint recognizes that the earthquake and tsunami which struck Japan on March 11th was a truly unique disaster of monumental proportions. Sprint has been working with our partners and relief organizations to be as responsive as possible to meet current and future needs emanating from this terrible event.

Sprint has closely monitored the situation and is willing to make an advance of these funds in the face of this terrible tragedy. As you point out, a speedy transmission of these donations is important to the nonprofit organizations involved in the relief efforts and the people of Japan.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Vonya B. McCann
